of which they are none too prone to they are probably appreciated. Of course it must be remembered that as a people the profits of trade—a trade rightly duty they owed the community and using every endeavour to secure its extinction, efforts of the Government and Sanitary authorities-assuming an attitude of arrogant petulance which finally developed quashed when the gleam of bayonets was espied in the distance. This was bad enough, but the form that their resentment then assumed disentitles them to any more consideration than must be constitutionally conceded. First they defy the authority of the Government, but are quelled and forced to fall in with civilized notions of sanitation; and then by the circulation of lying tales they spread consternation among the more credulous of the labouring classes, and strive to work Hongkong's commercial ruin by scaring them out of the colony. In this they succeeded only commerce of the port-absolutely paralysed; the employers of labour face to face with ruin, partly owing to the uncertainty of the future and partly to the extra pay which the labourers, skilled and unskilled, are demanding. Fortunately the epidemic which has brought all this trouble about seems abating, but should that hope he almost every enterprise carried on here.

On the other hand it has opened the eyes of everyone to the unwholesome fact that the prosperity, the very life of this colony, has hitherto depended on the Chinese; as much almost on their good-practical suggestions as to the means securing a remedy, and at the same time conferring benefits directly upon our fellow subjects. Our correspondent has pointed the way; it is for those more deeply interested to follow. India affords an inexhaustible field for recruiting labour and if the scheme were developed, Eritish trade and shipping would reap the benefits which now flow into Chinese coffers. In Japan also there are thousands of coolies available for immigration, and who not only combine the industrious habits of the Chinese but many other excellent qualities which the Celestial does not possess-they are hard-working, law-abiding, and make excellent citizens wherever they go. Of course it is understood that it is only between the coolie classes of the two countries that these comparisons are

THE PLAGUE IN HONGKONG.

The plague has now been with us fully two nonths and during that time it has claimed upwards of 2,000 victims, including several Europeans, has driven tens of thousands of thrifty people from our shores, throttled several thriving industries, driven our trade to neighbouring ports, cost the Government upwards of $150,000 up to the present time and, in addition to many other disastrous effects, too numerous to mention at the present juncture, has involved the business community in losses which will probably aggregate close upon ten million dollars. This is bid enough, but there is something infinitely worse—the laisses faire of some Downing Street pro'ckes who begin by being fools (upon arrival here) and end by being knaves. It is to men of this class that the colony is indebted for the scandalous state of affairs that made it possible for this loathsome disease to take root, and spread from the unspeakable beastliness and revolting rookeries In Tal-ping-shan to the Central and Western portions of the city of Victoria. It is owing to the culpable, if not criminal, negligence of such men that it became possible for a huge sewer to be blocked at its mouth for months at stretch and become choked for upwards of two hundred yards with the sewage from the most densely populated portion of the colony, And it is owing to the scandalous ind fference of such men that the plague threatens to get a firm foot-hold in the crowded Central district of the town. Over, and over again, this journal hasappealed to the authorities to adopt prompt and drastic measures for effectively dealing with the plague. But all to no purpose; a deaf ear has been turned to numerous timely warnings and a contemptuous indifference shown whenever and wherever possible. The result is before us and the prospect is anything but pleasing, for the disease is threatening in no uncertain manner

Long before a single case of plague was reported in Wellington, Stanley or Pottinger streets, or in Wanchai, we recommended that the greater portion of Tai-ping-shan, should be burnt and that a cordon be drawn round the infected district. What was done? Next to nothing. The filthy and disease-impregnated denizens of thore regions were allowed to wander at will, with their dirty clothing, furniture and effects, all over the colony spreading plague-germs far and wide; to East Point, Wanchal, Stanley, Shau-ki-wan, Kowloon, Aberdeen and Yau-mati they hurried in hundreds and the result has been that cases of plague have been reported from almost all of these outlying districts. But why does the Government fail to make full use of the powers which it is generally supposed to possess? Well, for various reasons, many of which the representatives of the people will be called upon to have explained to them, for owing to the shocking bungling and shilly-shallying of the Government, Hongkong is face to face with the most disastrous depression yet known in this part of the world. It is not suffi tent for us to know asked to pay dearly for the gross blunders and idiocy of officials foisted upon them-are entitled Hitherto the rate-payers have loyally con- point of abstract principle we can hardly differ tributed far more than a just proportion towards | much. H. G. BROWN AND COMPANY · LIMITED.

The following is the report for presentation to shareholders, at the fifth ordinary yearly meeting. to be held at No. 29, Queen's Road, at noon on Saturday, 7th July :--

The general managers have to submit their report and statement of the Company's accounts for the year 1893, and, in so doing, have to express their regrets that they are not of a more favourable character.

The profit and loss account shows a debit balance of $38,232.68 including $17,702.15 brought forward from last account. The profit on sales of timber shows a falling off in comparison with the previous year which, in a measure, may be attributed to the generally depressed state of trade, and which may therefore be made good under more favourable circomstances; but again, it is the working of the Company's versels, which includes loss on Penshaw wrecked, which has caused the larger share of loss, so that it has been decided fto discontinue the Company's direct interest in sailing ships, except as regards those employed locally in Manila, the working of which has hitherto given fair results ;-advantage of a favourable opportunity has been taken to dispose of the Wm Le Lacheur.

The liabilities with Company's Bankers and Sundry Creditors have been reduced to $7,719.20 against $30,203.76 last year, and the value of the stock of unsold timber has been put at a low figure.

CHINESE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE " HONGKONG TELEGRAPH." SIR,-Premising that we both approach the subject as Liberals and also as sticklers for British administration in Hongkong, the question is, was the Government wise or otherwise in granting the request of the Tung Wah to establish and conduct a plague hospital for Chinese on Chinese lines? I answer "Yes" you argue that the course pursued has been a Liberalism, to our habit of granting, and securing Yee Yum Lane, Esra Lane, and several dingy by law, personal and social liberty to the natives discharged in securing the segregation of the Mr. Crook, of the P.W.D., and Lieut. Wah to appraishing its influence at the expense doctors had already effected thousands of cures. Under such elecumstances, to have forced the Chinese to submit themselves to European treatment would have presented the Government to the ignorant masses in a sinister aspect, it would have provoked, and justly provoked lively resent-. ment, and fanned a flame of cumity and suspiclon against foreigners in general which would simest certainly have found violent expression in the neighbouring provinces of China. Discontent, hatred, and the shaking of all confidence in the berevolence of Government-these would have been the baleful consequences of the policy. of force you advocate. And all apparently because you would have the Government force a problematical selvation upon the sick against their will. Had the Government acted as you suggest, it would have placed liself in a thoroughly false position, for its reputation would have been staked upon the success of the English dectors. Would any common-reuse Government undertake so quixatic a risk? And to extricate the Government the medical success would have had to be phenomenal, trlumphant : anything short of that, would have been discounted by Chinese belief that their doctors would have done better. shall to see from the point of political expediency what the Government had to gain by refusing the Tung Wah request. On the other, by grantlug it, the admir istration at once vindicated its the community. And seeing that the plague is endemic in Chira, there was a certain wisdom In not throwing away the off-chance that some traditional, empirical native prescription might turn out to posters some virtue to cure. But to recur to your point of view that the

Tung Wah under guise of philanthropy was seeking apilife if it fluence. Suppose as you do that there was covert political war, what other advice would a shrewd politician have given but this-" Grant the Tung Wah the permission it asks: if it succeed with its hospital, you, the Government, will at least have the credit of having enlightenedly sanctioned it : If it fail, as you aminipate, they ruin themselves. One thing is necessary-verify the cases admitted, and verily the deaths and cures, so that no reported. Give the Tung Wah rope, and watch who treat the Tung Wah an ennemt, now that its forces are in full rout, emit walls as of defeat, instead of improving the hour of your trlumph. For it is Tung Wah that has fallen, and indeed I'm certain I know just as much, as our late great has been the fall thereof. With ample funds, no foreign interference to baulk it, and the whole body of lucal native so-called dectors, re-inforced by the choicest talent of Canton, at its command, Tung Wah has shown itself to the light of day not only unable to cure the sick, but incompetent even to tend them. So fully in my opinion were the facts borne in upon that Committee after a few days experience of the hespital records, that I read their appeal to the Canton Viceroy to send down junks to remove the sick, not as you seem to understand it, as a vigorous soub imparted by a lively enemy but as the despairing admission of defeat-"come and save us; take away these sick, that they may die elsewhere unreported, for in the strong light of these foreigners' pitiless records Chinese medical prestige withers daily." If as You'll say a better head policeman never. you think Tung Wah deliberately challenged the Hongkong Government to a brosh, then to my mind it seems clear enough that it is not John Ball that has had the worst of the round. To recur, however, to the proposition with which A started, I maintain the right and liberty of every sick man, to decide for himself to whose care and treatment his life shall be committed, and think that the Government in instantly recognizing this right when it was claimed by the Chinese acted in accordance with the principles of British administration expediently and

He has Measter, Scarlet Fever, Typhus and Typhoid with eyes front, and hearts at aise, making made himself very popular since his advent Ferets. It may interest somebody to know that a high quick time for the scene of their labour. here, both by his genial manner and his attention and of course the Tung-Wah Yamun, where the bedy, are there not volunteers forthcoming? Government of the colony holds sway, was the little extra work undertaken by one or two, would

"So I am painfully aware, but what good is would call forth a hullabalco of horror, from any rational crature, and amazement would occupy his fatures to think that such a chamber of death could exist in the very centre of a British I asked no more. There was a sea- | Colony, and begor an !- me shalllish made

And now come round with us, noble Protectors and friends of the Chinese, come will us noble lawn-tenois players, see with the eyes we prothis pebble off the coast of China, has doubtle: s prevented you from secing with your own !

I have left off adopting the first person singula lar in this discourse, Mr. Editor, if ye place, and taken to the plural, as an officer of the Shropshire Light Infantry was so obliging as to lead me, Through the loathsome streets we go, where the gallant lads of the regiment are hard at work with tar-cans, and white-wash tubs, cleansing and disinfection the slimy dwellings; debris littired the way, and the otherwise empty streets were recking with disinfecting fluids. . The following days the officers and men of the Shropshire regiment continued their gruesome work. I fee of partitions, to pen human cratures into confined limits insufficient to kape a cat healthy, the very thing to make it rale alsy for epidemics to steal into the colony unknownall thim had been removed to the streets, with every auld rag and every auld stick; and the work of destruction by fire was begun.

Now a local barrister, the darlint, has been pleading the cause of the landlords for compennation; but is there no one gifted with eloquence to plead the cause of the poor tinant? All this seeming rubbish was burnt, and properly so, for the public safety; but it once formed furniture for those humble homes-and the "homes" in order that a prompt remedy may be applied. About our local Fire Brigade, I'm teeming with themselves are quite as dangerously impregnated. See that auld crature crawling forth from one at y defect in the drainage or acavenging of the of them infamous pest-houses! She is houlding With many cheerful facts about the way the on to a stool, her deformed feet, so absurdly called "small" are not sufficient of themselves to support her. There is "a dazed look of bewilderment in the settled lines of aged fatures which seems to impress one with the fact of her ho seless and friendless condition.

But no, bedad, not friendless! For see now one of thim Shropshire lads jumps nimbly to her assistance, as if the fiddlers had struck up a dance! Good luck attend the honest lad, who does such honour to his uniform. Wirrah, wirrah! What suffering and destitution must have followed this plague-stricken people. Leaving these par s and getting down to the Praya, where the burning of the debris was prolying ground reclaimed from the harbour at the extreme westward of the city, and called Kennedytown; and here we visited the Glass Works. Two long rooms, facing north and south, formed separate wards for men and women, and betwixt and between them was the entrance, which on each side led through dirty rooms occupied by the native "doctors."

The sight of thim rooms for the sick would not only bate Bannoher but would shame the Divil. In vain we looking round for any show of attendance, "but bedad" said I to the gentleman pext me, "there is surely a priest," but badsham cares are admitted, and no sham cures Then I can write a washing bill in fair Celestial scran to the one that was to be seen any where; there were the dead and the dying but not a was near the scene.

Nlogpo, June 14th. The plague is the all absorbing topic, and all the items connected with it are devoured with avidity. The medical officer of the port, Dr. J. F. Molyneux, has gone on one month's leave. which, instead of passing at the hills, he has gratultously placed at the services of the plaguestricken residents of Hongkong. We trust that should no great abatement of the pest occur, the community may see fit to extend his leave, Dr. Grant, assisted when required by Dr. Smythe, his absence. In view of the difficulty experienced surely admit of a few being spared to attend the Och, murder ! But the sight av thim shambles wretched victims of that vile pest. We are aware that many of the medical missionaries have the best disinfectant in use. All places are heavy practices, as we can see here in our who attended the great Conference, will show the possibilities of sparing some.

Surveyor and Secretary, The trouble in Korea is not nearly so much talked of as it was. The landing of troops in that country has apparently driven fear into the hearts of the rebels, and they at once submitted. This, of course, is only the talk amongst the Chinese. I also hear from the same source that the rebels who were in the north-west and west of Kores, bordering on Chins, where the troops landed from the Toonan, have been defeated and that the troops are returning. It is to be hoped that the Japanese troops (s'ated to number 3,000) have been as successful in the east of Kore. believe the whole affair to be " a storm in a teacup," so that Chinese officials might gain kudos by reporting a grand victory to the Emperor. The steamer Feiching has sustained an accident to her machinery, and has been towed down to Taku. The Hainys made the smartest run up from Taku during this year. She passed Take at 10 30 a.m. and was slongelde the Bund at 3 pm. She would have been up sooner than that, had not the Chungking and two tow-bosts detained ber. She arrived here before the English mall, which was landed at Taku and sent up by rail,

So far the community are enjoying the best of health, and there is very little sickness amongst the Chinese. The spring wheat crops have been gathered in, and the farmers are delighted, as they have had a plentiful harvest .- Shanghai Mercury.
